Dancers show their award winning styles Metelytsia's 22nd annual Spring Concert a big hit

The 52 member Elk Point Metelytsia Ukrainian Dance Club delighted Sunday's packed crowd with close to three hours of colorful entertainment at their 22nd annual spring concert.

From the tiny pre-beginners to six energetic adult dancers, the groups swirled and leaped their way through a program of 14 dances from all regions of the Ukraine, displaying the talent which brought them numerous medals at competitions in Airdrie and Vermilion, Alberta and Prince Albert, Saskatchewan.

The concert opened with the traditional bread-and-salt welcome of the Pryvit, followed by the Intermediate girls with the Poltava dance "Kuitky." The Juniors showed off their fast paced "Hutzulka Tanetz" and then the Pre Beginners took the stage for their Poltava dance.

The Senior group's "Volenska Zabava" wowed Sunday's audience with their skill. They later performed the "Bukovenski Tanetz", with wild gypsy rhythms enhanced by the jingle of their coin necklaces.

The Intermediate girls showed off their light Transcarpathian dance, "Zakarpatski Tanetz." The Beginners displayed their BARNYARD ROMANCE - Beautiful maiden Lesia (Eva Gusnowski) meets the man of her dreams - humble farmer Slavko (Travis Lindquist) and his chickens in the charming play which made up the second half of the Metelytsia concert on Sunday at Elk Point Elementary School.

"Kozachok," and the happy children of the Junior group performed the "Veseli Dite."

The high kicks and infectious rhythm of the "Volynski Tanetz" is the first Volyn dance for the Intermediate girls, and they have learned it well, reaping warm applause from the audience.

Addison Bartholomew and Travis Lindquist are the lone boys in the Senior group, and these two young cossacks showed their awesome skills in their Poltava duet.

The Seniors which entranced the home town crowd with their Transcarpathian "Zakarpatski Divchate," as did the Intermediates' "Bukovenski Zabava."

The Adult dancers, some of whom danced with Metelytsia for many years as children, performed their Poltava Dance.

After a brief intermission, a change of pace, as the dancers presented a play in dance, telling the story of a

Lesia, beautiful young girl (Eva Gusnowski) who loses her heart to a farmer boy (Travis Lindquist) with a barnyard filled with dancing animals and scarecrows. Unfortunately, her mother (Carol Lee) and the local matchmaker (Lee Ann Wozniak) have other ideas, and wish her to marry Ivan, a very nice young man (Addison Bartholomew). Both he and his parents (Michelle Zarowny and Wanda Cochrane) are fine

Canada Day not far away

"Far away, you think? No!" said Chamber of Commerce president Eugene Buck last Monday as he reported on plans for Elk Point's Canada Day celebrations, which are coming up in just under eight weeks.

This year Canada Day is on Sunday, and the lineup of events is being changed to accommodate those who wish to attend church services before the celebrations.

Chamber members will not, for once, have to be up at the crack of dawn to fire up the griddles, because their annual breakfast has turned into a brunch, going from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Lions Club-sponsored Canada Day Parade will start forming up around noon, ready for judging at 1 p.m. and taking to the streets at 1:30.

The stage show is scheduled for 3 p.m., and continues what Buck calls "the Sunday family picnic motif," with kids' games such as three legged races and egg-and-spoon races at the same time. The kids' games are a great "volunteer opportunity" for Chamber members to get involved, he says.

The next Canada Day planning meeting is scheduled for May 17.

Clean Up Week

Before the community can host either Canada Day or the annual auto show and community garage sale, they need to clean house, and Buck reminded everyone that May 10 to 17 is Clean Up Week.

The Town's grass collection bins are back out again, and a 40-yard dumpster at the temporary transfer site on Highway 41 has been opened up for tree trimmings, which must be cut down to garbage can length. A special garbage pickup is scheduled for May 17

Youngs leave Saturday for Mayo Clinic testing

The long wait for the trip to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota is almost over for Elk Point epilepsy victim Jeffrey Young and his mother Sherry. They fly out of Edmonton this Saturday morning en route to Minneapolis, near the site of the clinic where he is to undergo tests next week.

"We don't know how long we will be there," Sherry says. "It depends on the tests and what they are able to do. If we are advancing to some procedure, Lorne and Brad will be coming down."

The Mayo Clinic specialists are "not making any promises about what they can do for Jeffrey," but the Youngs are hopeful that some help will be obtained to combat the ongoing seizures which occur "way too many in a week," according to Sherry.

Donations continue to trickle in to the trust fund, and Sherry, Jeffrey, his dad Lorne and brother Brad, and the rest of the Young and Darling families want to thank "the tremendous number of people who did and who didn't know us... not only for the monetary donations but for the phone calls and genuine concern. Without this support, we could have felt very much alone," Sherry said. Special thanks to the fundraising committee "that did all the footwork" as well as to the individuals and companies who have contributed to the fund. "It's been really great."

"Our neurologist here has told us not to get our hopes up," Sherry concluded, "but let's hope anyway." Their families, friends and community will be hoping right along with them.

Armed robbery attempt foiled in Frog Lake

On Tuesday, April 24 at approximately 5 p.m., there was an attempted armed robbery at the Food and Fuel Truck Stop in Frog Lake. An intoxicated 18-year-old male entered the store and once inside, pulled a knife from his clothing and demanded that the female cashier give him the money from the cash register.

Frightened by what was happening, the clerk backed away from the man who was pointing the knife directly at her, and used the counter as a barrier. She asked him to leave, at which point a customer entered the store, prompting him to hide the knife by his side. The would-be robber then left the store but remained in the area.

A short time later the Elk Point RCMP arrived and identified the suspect, who was arrested without incident. Charges have been laid and the investigation is continuing. There were no injuries resulting from the incident.

Laundromat damaged

By Sgt. Lyle Marianchuk
Elk Point RCMP

Sometime between 7:30 p.m. and approximately 11:00 p.m. on April 29, suspects entered a laundromat near Heinsburg and damaged a washing machine, removing a coin box in the process. Also a mobile home near the laundromat had all its windows broken around this time. Customers were seen in the business during this time and younger children were seen outside the laundromat. Damage is estimated at over $1000.

Any one with information is asked to call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477) or the Elk Point RCMP Detachment at 724-3829.

Crime Stoppers will pay up to $2000 for information leading to the arrest of the person(s) responsible for this or any other crime. You do not have to reveal your identity and if your tip leads to an arrest you qualify for an award.

Don't forget... Mother's Day is this Sunday

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

Don't forget Mom this coming Sunday! It is her special day. Happy Mother's Day to all our Moms.

Have you ever wondered why when we started celebrating Mother's Day? In researching this question, I discovered that the woman whose 1907 grass-roots movement to create Mother's Day culminated in its official proclamation in 1914 was never herself a mother, according to research done by Hallmark Cars.

Miss Anna Jarvis, a Philadelphia school teacher, was inspired by her devotion to her own mother to found a day dedicated to honoring mothers.

It was two years after her own mother's death that Miss Jarvis began spreading her idea. She wrote hundreds of letters seeking endorsement of the idea to congressional representatives, state governors, influential business people and to clergy.

In 1910, Anna Jarvis' tireless efforts were rewarded. The governors of the American states of West Virginia, Oklahoma and Washington proclaimed Mother's Day an official occasion. Within a year, Mother's Day was being observed throughout the United States.

Miss Jarvis achieved her final victory in 1914, when U. S. President Woodrow Wilson issued a proclamation directing the second Sunday in May as a day for public expression of love and reverence for mothers. The custom of observing Mother's Day quickly spread to Canada, where generations have celebrated it in the spirit Anna Jarvis first intended.

At Miss Jarvis' suggestion, the carnation - her own mother's favorite - became the official flower of Mother's Day. According to Hallmark, cards and carnations symbolize Mother's Day in such diverse countries as Australia, Mexico and Japan.

So many statements can be made about mothers on Hallmark or other cards, but I hope you fill find the time to make your own special, unique statement to your Mother on Mother's Day. Abraham Lincoln said: "All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my mother." Charles Chaplin said: "It seems to me that my mother was the most splendid woman I ever knew. I have met a lot of people knocking around the world since, but I have never met a more thoroughly refined woman than my mother. If I have amounted to anything, it will be due to her." Marion C. Garretty said: "Mother love is the fuel that enables a normal human being to do the impossible." Art Urban said: "A mother's love is like a circle, it has no beginning and no ending. It keeps going around and around, ever expanding, touching everyone who comes in contact with it. Engulfing them like the morning's mist, warming them like the noontime sun, and covering them like a blanket of evening stars. A mother's love is like a circle, it has no beginning and no ending." I could go on with other statements but it all comes down to the same point. Mothers are people who give us love. Thank you Mom, and Happy Mother's Day!

May 6 - 13 is Palliative Care Week

By Grace Kinjerski
Elk Point Palliative Care

Elk Point Palliative Care is having an open house on May 10, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Palliative Care Room of Elk Point Health Centre. You are invited to join us for some coffee and snacks, and to enter our draw for a door prize.

This will be a chance to learn more about your local Palliative Care program, its past memories and future goals. Also, anyone who has family that may be in need of our services is invited to come and ask questions and tour the facility. Everyone is welcome. There will also be information on how we keep the room operating and information on volunteering.

In the spirit of the International Year of the Volunteer, we would like to thank all of our volunteers, past and present: Pam Ballas, Gloria Berg, Mary Bepalko, Helene Brodwin, Marie Buck, Dianne Davidson, Patti Fisher, Marguerite Friesen, Nellie Hillebrand, Muriel Holthe, Barb Kaufman,

The heat is on - but don't turn off your exercise program

By Carol Moro

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

With the approach of summer, it's time to think about making some adjustments in your exercise program. Hotter daytime temperatures - and in many parts of the country, high humidity levels - require a different approach if we're to avoid heat-related illnesses.

Heat-related illnesses like heatstroke and heat exhaustion occur when the body's ability to regulate its own heat is impaired. These conditions can be serious, so prevention is the smartest strategy.

■ If you exercise outdoors in the summer, do so in the early morning or late evening hours when it's cooler.

■ On days when you can't use the cooler hours for exercise, move your activity indoors to an air conditioned building if possible.

■ Naturally, you'll choose a shaded route (if available) for walking, jogging, or biking. Also keep in mind the prevailing winds, which may help you keep your cool.

■ Let your body slowly acclimate to hot weather. When performing your outdoor activity, start with a short segment of your regular workout. Gradually increase the time each day. Studies have shown that it takes about two to four weeks of exercising in the heat before you become fully acclimatized.

■ Drink lots of water. During exercise, drink one liter (about one quart) per hour. Keep drinking even if you're not thirsty, since thirst doesn't usually arrive until you're a little bit dehydrated.

■ Dress properly for your outdoor exercise. A brimmed hat will protect your face from the sun. Loose clothing with microfibers that "breathe" allow sweat to evaporate instead of clinging to your skin.

■ Be especially cautious when the humidity is high. In hot, humid weather, your body's sweat mechanisms don't work as well. The air surrounding your body can't absorb the heat and sweat you're giving off, so as your body warms up, your heart must pump extra hard to get more blood to the skin and release that extra heat.

■ Consider doing your aerobic exercise in a pool. Even if you don't swim, you can do resistance exercises and simulated jogging. The cool water will prevent overheating.

■ Certain medical conditions, including diabetes and heart disease, increase the risk of heat-related illness. If you have any doubts about your ability to handle exertion in the summer heat, check with your doctor.

■ Palliative Care Week May 6 - 12

Death, dying and Palliative Care

"It's comforting to know that there are people out there that strive to make it better, to bring death out of the darkness and into the warmth where it belongs. It's time for a whole new mindset where death is seen as being normal, not as being scary or creepy, but just as being a natural part of life," said a family member of a dying patient.

Although death and dying is not a topic most people want to discuss, for those facing a terminal illness, it is a reality. Palliative care is a philosophy of care intended to comfort and support individuals and families who are living with a terminal illness.

Regardless of the setting of care, the goal of palliative care is neither to hasten nor to postpone death, but rather to make the last stages of life comfortable, controlling pain and other distressing symptoms, and providing emotional, social and spiritual support. It is accompanying the dying, being there, supporting and caring for the dying as they journey into the last stages of life.

The focus of the Regional Palliative Care Program in the Lakeland Health Region is to improve quality of life by meeting the physical and emotional needs of the terminally ill and their families. A pilot palliative care program in the Bonnyville area from July 1999 - March 2000 focused on improving coordination of care and enhancing the knowledge, skill and comfort level of health professionals providing palliative care. Evaluation findings of the pilot project proved the program was successful and the Lakeland Regional Health Authority Senior Management and Board supported region-wide implementation of the program.

As described in the Senate Report, "Quality End-Of-Life Care: The Right of Every Canadian," only 5 to 10 percent of Canadians die in good pain and symptom control. As stated by Dr. Hnydyk, Palliative Care Physician, "Lakeland Regional Health Authority has initiated a program to ensure its residents receive optimal end-of-life care."

For those facing terminal diseases, death may be inevitable, but living while dying is possible. When physical and emotional needs of the dying are met, the journey towards death can be a rich and profound experience that gives meaning and completeness to life. Palliative Care helps address the fear, worries and questions associated with the dying process and aims to ensure the terminally ill live their remaining days in dignity and comfort, surrounded by those who care.

In recognition of Palliative Care Week, May 6 to 12, take the time to remember loved ones, comfort families and friends who are bereaved, and acknowledge caregivers who have cared for and supported the dying and their families.

For more information about Palliative Care, contact the Regional Palliative Care Program at 1-866-999-3933.

Tongues of fire cruel to victims

By Pastor Jerry Richards

Elk Point Christian Community Church

A California attorney was convicted on 12 counts of grand theft and four counts of perjury for looting a wealthy client's estate. Trusted to oversee the client's possessions, he systematically siphoned almost a million dollars for it in eight years. The judge who heard the case rejected the defense appeal for probation, sentencing the defendant to eight years in prison and fining him $80,000. The betrayal of that trust, the judge said, would make probation a mockery of justice. Trust is absolutely essential to our life. Only when we have to doubt everything we hear, see, buy or experience do we understand the magnitude of its loss. Others should be able to bank on our promises and entrust to us any important matter, with no further thought. We need to be known for our integrity as Tiffany's is known for fine gems. We are called to be moral absolutists in a society of moral relativists. We need to be responsible and act responsibly. The kind of trust we are speaking about here is that which is demonstrated by the use of the tongue. In essence, our words will either prove us trustworthy or they will show us to be entirely the opposite, dishonest and untrustworthy.

Oftentimes, we will betray ourselves by a wrong emphasis, or a bitter inflection in our speech. Saying the one thing, we may portray the exact opposite in our intentions. So, integrity will often be called into question by the way we say something, and not according to the words we say.

The same is true of our actions. We can do something, which could hardly be described as sinister, but when those actions are examined according to our motives, we can turn something that would appear to be kind and good, into something that is absolutely evil, because the deed was not performed with good and pure motives. For example, in Britain, a married couple returned to their car on the mall parking lot to find their car missing. They reported the incident to the police. The next morning, the man looked out his living room window to see his car parked at the curb, where he normally would have parked it. He went outside and looked the car over. It was undamaged. On the driver's seat was an envelope. He opened it to find a letter and two theatre tickets.

The letter explained that the person had taken the car in an emergency situation, and wanted to compensate the couple by sending them to a popular theatre production in a nearby city. The man was excited when he showed his wife the envelope. Two days later they went to see the theatre production. The show was great, and on the way home, they talked about the people who had "borrowed" their car. When they arrived home, they went into the house to find everything had been stolen. Nothing was left in the house! The people who had borrowed the car had set them up. The theatre tickets were no kind act of thanks, but a bait to lure those hapless victims away from home. Our words can be used in the same way. Saying what could never be initially construed as hurtful, we can say things with foul motives, intended to set others up. And those words become a stinging indictment upon our character.

The Bible includes a letter from a man called James, the half-brother of Jesus of Nazareth. It is found in the New Testament. In the third chapter of his letter, James teaches about the use of the tongue as being two-fold. On the one hand we curse man, and on the other we praise God. This is impossible. Attempting to use the tongue for both good and evil is a common trait amongst humanity. But it

Community Choir presents 11th annual Spring Concert

The over 50 voices of the Elk Point Community Choir welcomed spring with their 11th annual Spring Concert on Sunday evening.

The choir made everyone feel right at home with their first set, which included "Home" and "Down That Road," than sang "The Music, the Magic and the Memories," winding up with "Homeward Bound," which featured a solo by Kallie-Jo Coleman.

Choir member Penny Stratford was accompanied by George Stratford on guitar and in the chorus as she sang a country number, "Can I Have This Dance?"

Four hands were better than two as Deanna Easthope was joined on the piano bench by Linda Peters for a duet, "A Perfect Day."

Second soloist of the evening was Ruth Pugh, accompanied by Kerry Anderson on piano in "Elya."

They were billed as a quartet, but in reality they were six, as Sarah Osinchuk, Cheryl Kurash, Kim Beady, Laurie Keichinger, Kerry Anderson and Shirley Osinchuk took the audience back to the Big Band era with "Moon Glow" and "Tuxedo Junction."

Erin Mueller sang a solo rendition of "Blessed."

The ladies of the choir, with soloist Sarah Osinchuk, started off the next set with "Reach Out and Touch." The men joined them for "What a Wonderful World" from the movie, "Good Morning Viet Nam," and a rollicking traditional Irish tune, "Hi! Ho! The Rattlin' Bog," and remained on stage when the ladies departed to belt out a Caribbean folk song about the women, who "Grumble Too Much."

Two choir bursaries were presented this year, to foster the musical promise of two St. Paul students. Guitarist Brett Kissel and Amanda Lefebvre were the recipients.

Shaun Sheplaw offered a solo, "Love Changes Everything," and joined in the quartet with Udo Mueller, Garry Townsend and Don Conrad, accompanied by pianist Linda Peters for "Just a Little Talk With Jesus" and by special guest vocalist Sarah Osinchuk for "Stand On The Rock."

Kerry Anderson performed two powerful solos, "This Is Not My Home" and "Don't Let Me Come Home a Stranger."

The choir was back with a set of 'inspirituals,' starting off with "Heaven Is My Home," featuring solos by Jope Langejans and Barb Buryn, and continuing with "Cradle Me Lord," "Michael, Row the Boat Ashore," and "Stand As One." Their final number with a heavenly flavor was "Operator," and featured the quartet of Shaun Sheplaw, Garry Townsend, Laurie Keichinger and Kim Beady, soloist Kerry Anderson, Kelsey Mueller on piano, Erin Mueller on trombone, Kallie-Jo Coleman on trumpet, Kim Beady on clarinet and David Wasmuth on drums.

Kim Beady's clarinet also added a special touch to the encore which replied to the standing ovation, "Hymn To Freedom."

The choir is directed by Udo Mueller and accompanied by pianist Deanna Easthope, with Erin Mueller as page turner. Choir members are: Altos - Janet Antonio, Peggy Adomaitis, Donna Babcock, Gabe Bayduza, Kim Beady, Norma Berg, Iryne Buck, Laura Helton, Velma

Hudson, Pat Johnson, Cheryl Kurash, Cheryl Kyle, Karen Langejans, Debbie Lawrence, Vicki Lumley, Mary Nelson, Sarah Osinchuk, Shirley Osinchuk, Linda Peters, Lesley Rebryna, Ellen Seward, Penny Stratford, Adaline Zenko; Sopranos - Kerry Anderson, Barb Buryn, Dixie Coleman, Kallie-Jo Coleman, Elna Eidsvik, Lillian Ewasiuk, Mabel Gottenbos, Gladys Haag, Laurie Keichinger, Shirley Krekoski, Louise Kurash, Emily Lange, Kelsey Mueller, Millie Orr, Ruth Pugh, Lena Stepa and Erica Spoeth; Tenors - Kevin Brundage, Don Conrad, Blaine Easthope, Clem Johnson, Harry Peters, David Pilisko, Lawrence Pidluzny, Garry Townsend, David Wasmuth; Bass - Dan Bubenko, Marshall Kachmar, Jope Langejans, George Sanders, Shaun Sheplaw, Charlie Thomson and Chad Keichinger.

LADIES OF THE CHOIR sing "Reach Out and Touch" with Sarah Osinchuk as the featured soloist.

MEN OF THE CHOIR poke fun at ladies who "Grumble Too Much."

SHREK'S
Once Upon A Time...

CHILDREN'S WRITING CONTEST

To celebrate Shrek's imminent arrival at the Elite Theatre, children are invited to write their own fairy tale or a story about their favorite fairy tale character.

AWESOME SHREK PRIZES will be awarded to the top five entries in each category.

Categories: 12 and under; 13 and over

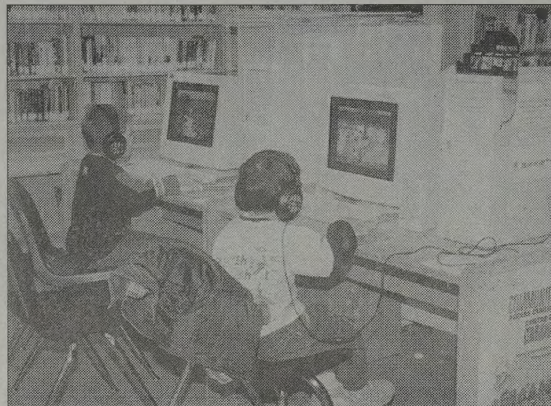

Deadline for entries is May 31.

Mail them or drop them off at the Elk Point Review
4809 - 50 Ave., Box 309, Elk Point, AB T0A 1A0

Marie Zayac sailed her tasteful pink chapeau into the crowd as she stepped up to accept the Queen Mother's crown. June Jenkins was first runner-up. Lucky ticket purchasers were Al Paley Jr., who won a DVD player, David Sloan, who won a ghetto blaster and Jim McEwen, who won a gift basket.

Prior to the coronation of the queens, principal Lorne Young introduced his staff and the HCS Student Council executive, and gave an overview of ongoing programs, new programs this year and plans for the coming year, which include additions to the playground, renovations to the school and an Information and Communication Technology program. New programs this year included the Alberta Initiative for School Improvement, which provided a resource person for the Autoskills Academy of Reading, and upgrading of computer technology.

The Academy of Reading demonstration drew much interest, as Jolene Bowman and Brian Clarke displayed the computerized 'lobby' which leads to an array of 'rooms' which can be accessed for all steps of the process from learning the sounds of words and letters to tracking the reader's progress and collecting rewards. Other 'rooms' allow teachers to leave messages of encouragement for students and set assignments. All students using the program "start where they are comfortable," Clarke said, then "fairly quickly get to where it's a challenge. The objective is to get them to read better."

Also on display in the high school wing were quilting projects by students in grades 8 and 12, and poems written by the students.

The Elementary wing offered face painting for the littlest people, fresh bannock and a display of Native crafts in the Cree classroom, "mud" stories in Grade 1, Mother's Day crafts in Grade 2, and a great "pig" theme in grades 3 and 4. Grades 5 and 6 are "soaring into the new Millennium" with kites and a preview of the school yearbook.

Numerous door prizes were given out during the well-attended, informative and entertaining evening.

people, but they cannot compare to Slavko, her farmer, and Lesia decides she must run away. Lost in the woods, she is taunted by gypsies, one of whom steals the sopilka flute Slavko has given her. She escapes, and Slavko fights the gypsy king and retrieves the sopilka.

At home, the babas have wedding preparations underway, and send Ivan off to collect more eggs. At the farm, he sees Slavko playing the sopilka, and knows that he cannot separate the lovers. The entire village is gathered for the wedding, but Ivan slips out on his bride at the last minute and sends Slavko to take his place. The matchmaker quickly finds another sweetheart for Ivan and everyone is happy.

The concert concluded with the traditional "Hopak" by the Seniors, followed by the presentation of certificates and plaques to the dancers as they bring another year to a glorious end.

Dancers with the club this year are: Pre-Beginners - Mandy Berg, Chantal Bowen, Skyler Ewasiuk, Haylee Ference, Zachary Ference, Graysen Meyenberg, Elizabeth Orr, Kailyn Nazarchuk, Ashley Wozniak, Corey Wozniak, Ryley Wozniak; Beginners - Leigha Bishop, Taylor Cochrane, Seanna Ewasiuk, Stephen Hillebrand, Kelsey Lindquist, Brittany Marceniuk, Lindsey MacDonald, Beth Warholik, Jamison Wozniak, Brett Zarowny; Juniors - Laryssa Cochrane, Yolanda Kinjerski, Ariel Kwasnycia, Dylan Kwasnycia, Andrea Lee, Brett Lindquist, Catherine Meyenberg, Jordyn Wozniak, Justine Wozniak, Alison Young, Bradley Yarmuch, Sarah Zarowny; Intermediates - Cassandra Cochrane, Sage Lowry, Chelsea Schnurer, Trish Yarmuch; Seniors - Addison Bartholomew, Jasmine Brown, Eva Gusnowski, Kirsty Lindquist, Travis Lindquist, Kristy Myshaniuk, Maureen Myshaniuk, Danielle Schnurer, Brandi Yarmuch; Adults - Sharon Ballas, Wanda Cochrane, Marion Hillebrand, Carol Lee, Lee Ann Wozniak, Michelle Zarowny.

LOOK WAAY UP - young cossack Travis Lindquist takes to the air.

THE WHOLE VILLAGE gathers to see the wedding of Lesia and her sweetheart.

Elk Point woman wins $16,666.70

Lillian Ewasiuk had to "look again" to realize she had won $16,666.70! The Elk Point area resident matched five numbers and the Bonus playing Western 649 to share the $50,000 prize with two other Albertans.

Lillian regularly purchases Western 649 tickets, and for the April 18 draw bought two quick picks and the plus at Home Town Grocers. The Friday after the draw she went to a local retailer to check her ticket. After the clerk printed the claim slip, she handed it to Lillian to read.

"At first I thought I had won $1600," Lillian recalled. "But the clerk told me to look again! Then I saw it was $16,666.70. This is a nice amount."

We will take a holiday next year to England, and plan to put the rest into the bank," Lillian commented when asked of her plans for the windfall. The happy winner claimed her prize April 24 at the St. Albert prize payout office.

BREAD BRAIDING BABAS prepare their part of the wedding feast - a giant braided bread.

what's NEWS at the LIBRARY?

Please check your magazine racks, borrowers!

By Daphne Schnurer
Librarian

It seems that lately we have a tremendous amount of overdue magazines. I know these are really easy to mix in with your own magazines at home. Magazine subscriptions are costly and therefore many people enjoy borrowing them from the library. In order for all our patrons to be able to enjoy the latest copy, please return materials on time.

Our library does not charge overdue fines but if overdue materials continue to be a problem, fines may be considered.

New Books

For our horse lovers: Monty Roberts - Horse Sense for People uses the gentle wisdom of the join up technique to enrich our relationships at home and at work.

Storey's Horse Lover's Encyclopedia has the information you need whether you're a seasoned rider, a novice equestrian, or someone who just wants to know everything there is to know about horses. An English and Western A-Z guide.

How to Become an Effective Rider by Cherry Hill is a must read for all equestrians.

Other Selections:

The Allergy Self-Help Cookbook of over 350 natural food recipes, free of all common allergens by Marjorie Hurt Jones, RN.

Tired of Being Tired by Jess Lynn Hanley, MD - Do you have adrenal burnout? Then let anti-aging pioneer Jess Hanley show how to rejuvenate a tired system; sleep better by restructuring your eating habits, improve your mood through food and natural supplement program, calm a stressed nervous system, live a happier and healthier life.

The Accidental Bride and The Least Likely Bride by Jane Feather.

Tongues of fire

does not work! If you are known for slanderous speech, then you will never convince others of your good intentions in your speaking. Your tongue will condemn you.

Of course there is another part of gossip and slander. It is the one who entertains and listens to slanderous speech. Again, James has something to say to this. He writes, "...the tongue is set among the members as that which defiles the whole body, and sets on fire the course of our life." (James 3:6). So, to be affected by the tongue of fire - the gossip, we must be like kindling that is ready to burn.

To receive gossip, we must be dried out, and good only for receiving a spark of ignition that will cause a fire to consume us. Bitterness, anger, and lies will dry out the human spirit, so that when the spark of gossip comes, we will listen and pass along the rumor.

Of course we know that, when a gossip passes along a story about some undefended victim, they always add their 10% to the tale. So, like brush fire caught and fanned by the wind, the rumor grows until it is unrecognizable from its original telling.

The Word of God is wisdom for life. The Bible encourages us to live a kinder, more considerate lifestyle. The next time you realize you are listening to gossip, remember this: "So also the tongue is a small part of the body, and yet it boasts of great things. Behold how great a forest is set aflame by such a small fire." (James 3:5)

Lions annual Journey for Sight raises $1581 as FGM breaks tie

F. G. Miller High School broke the eight-win tie with Elk Point Elementary School this Saturday as nine walkers from the school took home the School Challenge trophy from the Elk Point and District Lions Club Journey for Sight with a total of $408 in pledges. Jim Hawkins, who was part of the FGM team, was the first male to finish the 10 km course, setting a new record of 52 minutes.

Sue Campbell, who was the first female to finish the course, and Marshall Kachmar, who received recognition both as the eldest walker and the top fundraiser, bringing in $525, won the Oilfield Challenge for Kudu for the first time since 1995, with a total of $735.

Second most funds were collected by Candace Shaumleffel of E-Can.

Catherine Campbell was the youngest of the 14 participants.

Lion Keith Campbell gave special thanks to Kachmar for organizing the annual event. He said there was good representation from the schools and thanked E-

Can and Kudu for taking part in the Journey.

WEARY WALKERS show off their trophies at the end of the Journey for Sight, which had 14 human and two canine participants take on the 10 K route.

Handball gold for Tanya Pankiw

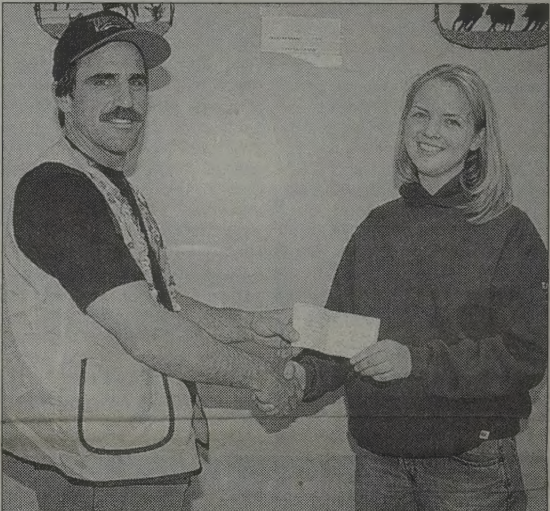

By Doug Bassett

Review Sports

This past weekend in Regina, the Canadian Women's Juvenile National Handball tournament was held and our very own Tanya Pankiw has won a Canadian gold medal. Men's and Ladies' teams competing were from all over Canada.

Tanya's team went undefeated in six games, and not only that, she was selected as the goalie for the Allstar team. This is super news for us, and could really lead into something in the future for Tanya.

The tournament started at 8 a.m. Friday when Tanya's team defeated Manitoba 24 to 7, then another team from Alberta Friday afternoon 20 to 6, then Saskatchewan Friday night 28 to 15. Saturday they defeated another Alberta team 22 to 10, then Sunday morning in the semi-finals they defeated New Brunswick 19 to 12, sending them into the gold medal game which they won 21 to 16 over Saskatchewan. A big hand for Tanya's hard work and dedication. It pays off.

LIONS ASSIST HANDBALL PLAYER -- Tanya Pankiw was presented with a cheque by Lyle Frisby of the Elk Point and District Lions Club last week, to help defray her expenses in traveling to Regina for the National Team Handball championships. The Lions are happy to have played a part in Tanya's successful weekend as part of Team Alberta, which consists mostly of players from Edmonton and Sherwood Park.

Elk Point to host Midget A Provincials

By Doug Bassett

Review Sports

This past weekend, yours truly spent his entire Saturday at a Baseball Alberta semi-annual meeting in Edmonton, but it was worth it. Yes! Exciting news: once again Elk Point has been selected, if we want it, as the host site of the Midget A Baseball Provincial Finals tournament, July 20 to 22. That's three days of top calibre baseball, right here in Elk Point.

This year we have a very young team, a handful of Bantam aged players with a handful of Bantam aged players, but the boys we have are committed, they want to play ball, and this is the best way that I know to promote the game of ball and at the same time, bring in business for our town. Eight teams from all over the province will be here, so don't miss it.

Tonight the regular season starts for the Midget Sox who will be hosting Two Hills at Bassett Field, and the Mosquito boys also open their season tonight, playing at home. Tomorrow night the Midget Sox will travel to St. Paul for their second game of the season. The Bantam Girls play their first game of the season tomorrow night, here in Elk Point, so stay tuned for next week's game reports.

LIONS PRESENT SPECIAL BIKE - Elk Point and District Lions Club members Marshall Kachmar and Doug Bassett presented a very special bike to brain cancer victim Josie Anton Roberts. The bike has a back support, special handlebars and large side wheels which make it possible for her to ride. Josie's mother Michelle Anton says it is "so good for her to get the exercise - she can ride the bike better than she can walk." She thanked the Lions for the gift, which "made it so I could buy all [of her children] a bike. It makes a real difference in her life." Kachmar says the Lions "serve our community and district. Our motto is "We Serve" and if we weren't serving, we wouldn't be Lions."
